GLOUCESTER – No one’s plate should be empty this Thanksgiving (or ever), thanks to profound community support for The Open Door Thanksgiving Food Drive and Thanksgiving Basket program.

“The Thanksgiving Food Drive and Thanksgiving Basket program provide meals for all who need a little help now and beyond the holiday season,” said President and CEO Julie LaFontaine. “Programs like this wouldn’t be possible without the power of a community that cares, and we offer our deepest gratitude to all those who helped make sure everyone had a place at the Thanksgiving table this year.”

The Open Door Annual Thanksgiving Food Drive collected 24,546 pounds of cereal and dry goods collectively, through donations made on Saturday, Nov. 20 at six participating area grocery stores as well as multiple food collections organized by local people and organizations throughout November. This year, an emphasis was placed on cereal donations as cereal is consistently in high demand at The Open Door food pantries.

Through The Open Door Thanksgiving Basket program, more than 1,000 households were provided with all the food needed to prepare a holiday meal at home. Pick-up appointments for the Holiday Basket program began late last week and limited deliveries were also available. Thanksgiving Holiday Baskets included a turkey or a gift card to purchase one (people had the option to choose whichever they preferred), squash, muffin mix, apples, potatoes, yams, green beans, cranberry sauce, and gravy.

249 volunteers donated the collective muscle to make this project happen, donating a combined 581 hours of time.

The Open Door also offers Holiday Baskets for the December holidays, sign-ups will be posted early in December. Pick-ups will be scheduled the week of Dec. 20. More information will be announced as soon as it becomes available.

Monetary donations to support programs of The Open Door can be made or mailed to The Open Door at 28 Emerson Ave., Gloucester MA or made online at FOODPANTRY.org/donate.
